FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: February 16, 2012

TEMPORARY STREET CLOSURE OF 800 BLOCK WALNUT STREET RESCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24 THROUGH MONDAY, FEBRUARY 27

PHILADELPHIA –The temporary closure of the 800 block of Walnut Street has been rescheduled for Friday, February 24 at 10:00 pm through Monday, February 27 at 5:00 am. The closure was originally scheduled for Friday, February 16 to Monday, February 20. The closure will accommodate the installation of heavy construction equipment at this location. For safety reasons and because of the nature of the work to be performed, the street will be closed to vehicular and pedestrian traffic.

Detour signs will be posted notifying motorists and pedestrians of the temporary closure. Police will be on site to direct motorists around the area. Citizens are urged to plan ahead and use alternative routes when traveling in the area. Theatre and parking lots will have limited access during closure.

All work will be completed by Monday morning. For the duration of the work, the contractors' crews will make every effort to minimize the inconvenience to affected residents and businesses. Citizens are thanked in advance for their patience and cooperation during this project.
