REQUIREMENTS

1. A City of Philadelphia Special Hauling Permit is not required when traveling exclusively on interstate highways; only a Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Special Hauling Permit is required.
2. A City of Philadelphia Standard Special Hauling Permit is required when traveling on any city street, state route, or interstate highway in the City of Philadelphia and the vehicle and/or load is:
 - over 40'-0" long as a single vehicle.
 - over 60'-0" long as a combination vehicle.
 - over 70'-0" long as a combination transporting articles that are non-divisible as to length.
 - over 8'-0" wide (8'-6" for non-divisible loads operating on highways having a width of 20'-0" or more).
 - over 13'-6" high.
 - over 80,000 pounds or the maximum gross vehicle weight.

In many cases, a Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Special Hauling Permit will also be required. Contact PennDOT by calling (610) 205-6786 or visit <http://www.dot1.state.pa.us/apras/>.

3. A City of Philadelphia Super Load Special Hauling Permit is required when traveling on any city street, state route, or interstate highway in the City of Philadelphia and the vehicle and/or load is:
 - over 160'-0" long.
 - over 16'-0" wide.
 - over 16'-0" high.
 - over 201,000 pounds.

In all cases, a Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Special Hauling Permit will also be required. Contact PennDOT by calling (610) 205-6786 or visit <http://www.dot1.state.pa.us/apras/>.

When traveling in the city, certain on-street circumstances may require the relocation of parked vehicles. Therefore, it is recommended that companies secure a tow truck to accompany Super Load moves.

4. A City of Philadelphia Impounded Special Hauling Permit is required when the vehicle is currently impounded; "Yes" must be selected on the application for the indicator question that asks whether or not the vehicle is currently impounded.
5. A *City of Philadelphia Police Escort is not required when traveling exclusively on interstate highways; only Commonwealth of Pennsylvania requirements apply:

6. A City of Philadelphia Police Escort is required:

ROUTE RESTRICTIONS

1. Both the Origin and Destination of a travel route must be a street address, an intersection of two streets, or the point on a street at the location where it crosses the Philadelphia city limits.
2. All streets listed as part of a travel route must be inside the Philadelphia city limits. All streets that are outside the Philadelphia city limits do not fall under the city's jurisdiction and therefore will be omitted from an approved route.
3. All streets listed as part of a travel route must be identified by the actual streets name as designated by the City of Philadelphia and not a state route number. The state routes designated by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania may coincide with multiple city streets and therefore do not provide sufficient information. Only interstate highways may be identified by numbers.
4. A SEPTA Permit is required when traveling over the subway lines on:
 - Market Street:
 - from 2nd Street through 22nd Street with a GVW over 80,000 pounds.
 - from 22nd Street through 44th Street with a GVW over 100,000 pounds.
 - Broad Street:
 - from north of Pattison Avenue through Grange Avenue with a GVW over 100,000 pounds.

The City of Philadelphia will not approve any permit for a vehicle that is traveling over the subways lines while weighing more than the specified load limits without written authorization from SEPTA. To apply for and obtain a SEPTA Permit, click here.

5. A Park Permit is required when traveling through the city parks, including but not limited to:
 - Cobb's Creek Park
 - Fairmount Park
 - FDR Park
 - Hunting Park
 - Juniata Park
 - Pennypack Park
 - Tacony Park
 - Wissahickon Park

The City of Philadelphia will not approve any permit for a vehicle that is traveling on a drive through one or more of the specified city parks without written authorization from Philadelphia Parks & Recreation. To apply for and obtain a Park Permit, click here.

6. A Broad-Ridge Spur Subway crossing approval is required when traveling over the subway lines on:

- Ridge Avenue:
 - from Broad Street through Arch Street with a GVW over 200,000 pounds and/or axles weighing over 35,000 pounds.
- 8th Street:
 - from Market Street through Arch Street with a GVW over 200,000 pounds and/or axles weighing over 35,000 pounds.

The City of Philadelphia will not approve any permit for a vehicle that is traveling over the subways lines while weighing more than the specified load limits without written authorization from the Department of Public Property and/or SEPTA. To apply for and obtain an approval, see the CONTACT LIST.

7. A PATCO Subway crossing approval is required when traveling over the subway lines on:

- Locust Street:
 - from 16th Street through 8th Street with a GVW over 200,000 pounds and/or axles weighing over 35,000 pounds.

The City of Philadelphia will not approve any permit for a vehicle that is traveling over the subways lines while weighing more than the specified load limits without written authorization from the Department of Public Property and/or PATCO. To apply for and obtain an approval, see the CONTACT LIST.

8. A Sensitive Bridge & Low Clearance Watch List is posted on the Bulletin Board.

SEPTA PERMIT

1. If you must travel over a subway line with a vehicle weighing more than the load limits specified in the ROUTE RESTRICTIONS, you must apply for and obtain an additional permit from the Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Authority (SEPTA) before your Special Hauling Permit may be approved.
2. To apply for a permit:
 - a. download the Application for a Heavy Load Movement over Subway and Railroad Tunnels.
 - b. complete the form.
 - c. send the form via email to LoadMovement@septa.org.

All SEPTA applications will be analyzed within three (3) full business days of submission; please plan accordingly.

3. For additional information, see the CONTACT LIST.

NOTE: For any issues that arise related to raising overhead trolley catenary wires that are in the way of making a move, call (215) 580-8616 to be dispatched to the appropriate agent.

PARK PERMIT

1. If you must travel on a drive through a city park as specified in the ROUTE RESTRICTIONS, you must apply for and obtain an additional permit from Philadelphia Parks & Recreation before your Special Hauling Permit may be approved.
2. To apply for a permit:
 - a. download the Philadelphia Parks & Recreation Application for Permit.
 - b. complete the form.
 - c. send the form via email to Roger.TenantJr@phila.gov.

All Philadelphia Parks & Recreation applications will be analyzed within three (3) full business days of submission; please plan accordingly.

3. For additional information, see the CONTACT LIST.

NOTE: For any issues that arise related to street trees having branches that are in the way of making a move, call 911 for a non-emergency dispatch to the appropriate Parks & Recreation District Representative, and explain the particular situation.
